

Privacy Policy

This policy applies to all information collected or submitted on ReX's app for the iPhone and any other devices and platforms.

Information we collect

When creating an account, you will be asked to enter a name, doctor's email address, birthday, height, and weight. Doctor email addresses are only used for exporting medication and symptom data to your doctor when you request (and birthday is only used for calculating age to send to the doctor as well). We don't send promotional emails. Height and weight data are only used for calculating BMI, which can be viewed on the settings page of the application.

You may choose to provide a username that is not associated with your real name, it only serves as a greeting when the application is opened.

We don't store any of this information ourselves, all the information you input to the app is stored locally, on your phone.

Accessing, changing, or deleting your information

You may access or change your information or delete the application from your phone at any time. At no time do we have access to the information stored on your phone, everything rests strictly within the phone's storage itself.
